ABSTRACT: The Lancaster Motor Co., located in Clinton, Michigan, was a sales and service dealership for Ford automobiles between 1912 and 1960. The building that housed this business is currently an insurance office operated by the grandson of the original owner, who located these records in the basement. The Lancaster Motor Sales Records contains business correspondence; sales records; accounting, sales tax, and payroll records; and several short films that includes images of the Ford baseball team in Clinton, Michigan, and a damaged Model T being driven in for service.

ACCESS RESTRICTIONS: The collection is open for research. Access to original films contained in the collection is restricted. Researchers interested in this material should contact Benson Ford Research Center staff in advance at research.center@thehenryford.org.
